Schools to Call Bond Election for December 5

The Grossmont Union High School District and the Lemon Grove Elementary School District are going to hold a bond election on Tuesday, December 5.

The reason for the two elections is to comply with the State requirements to be eligible for money out of the State School Bond fund.

Lemon Grove is to get $1,344,296, so the business office of the local school was informed yesterday afternoon by Supt. Byron L. Netzel, who went to Sacramento the first of the week to confer with the State Allocation Board.

The district must bond itself for an additional $71,000 to get this money. The first allocation will be for $163,930, which will be made available early in 1951 if the voters approve the bond issue.

The remaining amount of the $1,344,296 will automatically be made available to the district as the work progresses on school construction.

The first work to be done is to enlarge the elementary school on Golden avenue, and the construction of the new school on San Miguel will start as soon as practicable in 1951.

Hi, Neighbor by Mac Rex Graham

A frantic call for help comes this week from Girl Scouts leaders of the Monterey Heights area.

Because many of the mothers are taking jobs outside of their homes, it becomes necessary for others to help with Scouting if there is to be a Scouting program.

You don't have to be a mother to qualify for Scouting or any other youth work.

There is a wonderful opportunity here for grandmothers or women who have no children of their own to take part in supervision and guidance of our girls.

A meeting is being held this Friday from 9:30 to 11 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Kisel, 7726 Alton Dr., to plan Scouting work.

If you are interested in helping please call Mrs. Palaski, H. 6-5113 and tell her about it.

Workers are also needed in Scouting in other parts of the Lemon Grove area. There is no investment that pays as big returns as the investment of time and money in youth guidance.

Be ready with your community Chest gift and help put the drive over this week.

The Alter Society will serve refreshments.

Philharmonic Work Told

To stimulate local interest and acquaint the community with the functions of San Diego Philharmonic Society and the Philharmonic Orchestra, Mrs. O. M. Garber received at her home at Hilltop Chateau on Tuesday afternoon.

More than 40 were present to meet Mrs. Garber's honored guests, Dr. Leslie Hodge, conductor for the winter season, and Mrs. Hodge; Carmen Conger, opera star; Mrs. Howard L. Clayton, chairman of the Central Women's Committee; and Perry DeLong, president of the orchestra.

Mr. DeLong told what the group hoped to accomplish and Dr. Hodge stressed the value of the organization to the musical appreciation of the community.

Mrs. Clayton explained that through social teas sponsored by members of the local committees, people became better acquainted and there would be more of a trend toward better music.

Tea was served from a beautifully appointed table centered with an arrangement of brown and purple chrysanthemums.

They hope that something may be done to eliminate this hazard.

Sincerely yours,

No New Tax on Goods on Floor

The Revenue Act of 1950 in its final form eliminated all proposed excise tax reductions and added some new ones as well. All excise tax changes are effective on or after November 1, 1950.

The change in manufacturers' and retailers' excise taxes apply to sales made on or after November 1. An article is considered sold when possession or the right of possession passes to the purchaser.

2. The 10% manufacturers' excise tax on refrigerators has been extended to household type deep freeze units.

3. The 20% retailers' excise tax on jewelry, luggage, furs, and toilet preparations is now applicable to retail sales made by military exchanges and other United States agencies or instrumentalities of the United States.

Public Invited to Schools During Education Week

During the week of November 6 to 10, American Education Week will be observed throughout the schools in the Lemon Grove District. This the thirtieth observance of this week, which was instituted in 1920.

Sponsors include the National Education Association, the American Legion, the U. S. Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

This year the theme is "Government Of, By, and For the People." The path of despotism to freedom is a long, hard road. Every advantage we now enjoy has come because of men and women who cared and dared to face hardship and failure and even death. Every advantage we now have can be quickly lost if we do not continue to care and dare. The challenge of dictatorship around the world can be met only by giving relief proof in our country that we practice what we preach, and that government of, by, and for the people release immense resources of mind and spirit which are lost in any regime based on fear and peace.

It is hoped by the school personnel that the people will take advantage of this chance to visit the schools and actually to see and hear the work that is being carried on in all the classrooms.

There will be no evening program on the week's agenda at the schools, but visitation during the regular class hour is urged.

Take this opportunity to meet the teachers at our three schools if you have not already done so this term. Or, if you are acquainted, continue with the pleasant relationship that have been established. Only in this manner can you gain a true picture of how today's problem are being met in the field of education.

On Thursday November 9, the Kiwanis Club will pay tribute to the American Education Week with a program featuring students from the junior high. Joy Johnson, eighth grade, will quote from a letter from President Truman on the importance of this week. William Blair, also of Mrs. Butler's eighth grade, will talk on the duties of a good citizen. Paul Cheatham, of the music department, will present some talented youngsters from the band and orchestra at this luncheon at the American Legion Hall.

Katy Lou Pendergrass, Marilyn Bunch, Sue Ann Martin, and Barbara Ropp will participate.

The following week, but still in conjunction with American Education, B. L. Netzel, Mrs. Helen Thompson and Mrs. Hal Crow will participate in a panel discussion and tell of the Parent-Teacher part in our school program. This is scheduled at the Forward Club, sponsored by the Senior Forward Club, for Friday, November 10.

Art Show in Balboa Park November 11

There will be something new under the San Diego sun when the "Art Utility, and You" show opens November 11, at the Fine Arts Gallery in Balboa Park. The exhibit is comprised entirely of low priced utilitarian objects loaned by local business houses. Selection of objects was made by the Contemporary Art Committee (a group of trained artist and designers) of the Fine Arts Gallery. According to a spokesman for the committee the show will demonstrate conclusively that "such seeming incompatables as Art and Utility in fact go hand in hand."

Various lecturers will be imported to speak throughout the period of the exhibition which will continue into December. It is also planned to have a special days such as "Business Men's Day" when particular aspect of the show of interest to specific groups will be pointed up with lecturers, etc. It is predicted that upwards of 25,000 people will see the show. If expenses can be met the exhibit will become an annual event at the Gallery.

Review Editor Needs Bigger Hat

Ye ed, ain't speakin' to common folks since he got his picture in the paper with Governor Warren. When the Governor was in Lemon Grove Tuesday afternoon the photos took several pictures of him meeting with a group of local politicians in front of the Chamber of Commerce building.

Picking out the best looking(?) man in the group, the editor of the Union decided to run that picture.

So now this editor only converses with Governors, Vice Presidents and the like.

He might condescend to speak to a Princess or two.

Hallowe'en a Big Night at Schools

The entire community enjoyed a pleasant Hallowe'en celebration on the Lemon Grove School grounds Tuesday evening, where the P.T.A. sponsored their annual Carnival. One of the highlights of the evening was the giant costume parade, with participants from the eight grades. Two awards were made for each group, with the members of the band, which played under the direction of Paul Cheatham, being judged as a separate group. Judges for the best costumes were V. J. Dorman, Dr. George Brassington, and T. E. Courtney. Forrest Baxter announced the various programs during the evening.

The P.T.A. is grateful to the merchants of the community who were very generous in their donations of material and goods for prizes. They were responsible for many of the fine awards given to the parade winners.

A feature of the evening was the free dancing, enjoyed by the children and the adults. Music was provided by the Toomire Orchestra, through the cooperation of Local No. 325 of the American Federation of Musicians through a grant from the music performance trust fund of the recording industry.

Many attractive booths held record crowds all evening. Booth chairman for the evening were: Tecos, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Netzel; Student Council, J. Moore; Cake and Coffee, Mrs. Royce Cannon and Mrs. Clyde Hardy; Campfire Girls, Mrs. Young; Cub Scouts, Mr. Blaine and Mr. Cedarwall; Hot Dogs, Mrs. W. H. Continued on page 8

Baker Writes from from Tasmania

Strahan, Tasmania, Australia

Dear folks:

Strahan, with a population of 1,000, is the largest city on the West coast of Tasmania.

The only motor road on this coast connects Strahan with the interior mining town of Queens-town.

To the South is an unbroken wilderness of forested mountains with deep canyons and swift flowing mountain streams.

To the North is a very wild country bordered only by a narrow gauged railroad over which I came here.

The passenger train consisted of a small motor bus with a small coach attached. The total seating capacity was about 50 people.

I think it was the most beautiful trip I have ever taken. The whole country is very mountainous with heavy forests of pine, eucalyptus, maple and many trees unknown to me. We crossed many beautiful mountain rivers. I had never before seen such a profusion and variety of flowers: Jasmine, Sassafras, Iris and many blooming shrubs.

The town of Strahan is located on a very beautiful land-locked bay surrounded by low hills. It is the shipping port for the product of the mines in the interior.

Twenty-seven miles to the East is the great copper mine of Mt. Tyell. Prices here are high as it is a frontier community.

I have a nicely furnished room. Bed, a good supper last night and breakfast this morning. The total cost was $1.43.

Food here is plentiful and well cooked. The people are very hospitable as very few strangers ever visit this region. A Californian is a curiosity.

Governor Calls Here on Flying Visit to S. D.

Governor Earl Warren, and party made a flying visit to Lemon Grove Tuesday afternoon.

He was greeted on his visit here by President Vroman J. Dorman of the Chamber of Commerce, and business men of the community.

After a round of introductions, the Governor chatted with the assembled group for a few minutes before taking off for La Mesa.

The Governor, when asked how the campaign was going, replied that some of his supporters were too enthusiastic, and thought the election was in the bag, but that he personally preferred that they be not so optimistic, and for everyone to get in and pitch till the election was won.

He commented on the excellent climate of Lemon Grove, and noted that San Diego seemed to have more fog than in former years. Governor Warren inquired of Mr. Dorman, who is also president of the local school board, if the district was now getting any money from the state school bond fund.

Mr. Dorman replied that the district would soon be getting a million and a half, but the district must hold another bond election to comply with certain regulations.

With a hearty farewell, and amid the well wishes of his audience, the governor climbed in his car and was on his way to other fields.

Governor Warren's visit to San Diego metropolis area was a surprise visit all around.

He said here that he suddenly decided to visit this area when he found he had an extra day available in his busy campaign schedule.

The Governor was looking fit and hearty, but a little fresher than when this writer saw him last, and he has a few more lines in his face.

Eight years in the state house has not dimmed his perspective, and he is as alert as the day he entered his campaign for the office back in '42.

PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS

John Hill, chairman of special events for Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, is calling a meeting at the Justice Court tomorrow (Friday) evening to plan the local pre-Christmas activities. A representative from each organization is requested to be present.

CHANGE MEETING DATE

The Kiwanis Club is changing its meeting place to the V. F. W. Hall, and the time to each Thursday noon commencing next week.

Gives Evidence in Church Court

A large audience voted in overwhelming majority from scriptural and authoritative historical evidence that Papal Rome is correct in her claim to have changed the Sabbath from the Seventh to first day of the week, declared Pastor-Evangelist Charles Betz last Sunday evening at the Seventh-day Adventist church.

More than 99 percent of the large audience assembled cast a ballot in favor of the evidence presented by Evangelist Betz who acted as the prosecuting attorney. W. C. Risley presided over the court.

The Evangelist said in part: "We shall cite evidence to prove that God never changed the Sabbath from the Seventh-day to the first; and, furthermore, that Jesus Christ did not change it. From evidence presented from the book of Acts it is also apparent that the apostles did not change the day of the worship, as the Holy Spirit writing through Luke calls it the Sabbathday. See Acts 13: 42, and the change was made after the apostles passed away, or about 300 A. D."

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

The one dominant underlying theme for the entire California election this coming Tuesday is Socialism and all its allied philosophies.

The threat of paternalism, government domination, federal compulsion, Socialism and Communism is so interwoven in the election cloth that it has become THE issue throughout the State and Nation.

From Assembly races to the U. S. Senate fight—from the Attorney General campaign to ballot issues—the theme is apparent, the issue is more clear cut than at any time in our history.

In Kern county it's a bitter Assembly contest between small farmer, Pat Kelly and incumbent Joe Lewis. Lewis hues the Socialist pattern with all the tenacity of an ant to food at a picnic. Kelly by contrast, is running his campaign on a platform of individual initiative.

Take a look at the U. S. Senate race. Helen Gahagan Douglas is the epitome of the government paternalism candidate. Her platform is shot through with issues which would increase the size and power of federal bureaucracy. Richard Nixon follows a course 180 degrees opposite.

In congressional campaigns, the issue is just as apparent. In the Fresno area it's hard-hitting Oakley Hunter, a man fully convinced that as America grew great under free enterprise, it can remain great under free enterprise. His opponent is incumbent Cecil White, a dyed-in-the wool Bigger Government advocate.

The theme of Socialism and its allied philosophies isn't confined to candidates alone. Among the ballot issues is Proposition 10 which would give the people the right to decide whether or not they wished permanent public housing projects which they must pay for in their community.

munities. Fearful that a "yes" vote on 10 would curb their ambitions, far-flung bureaucratic empire, public housing authorities are throwing up the greatest smokescreen in history as they fight the measure tooth and nail. Favoring a "yes" vote, are those that are weary of ever-expanding federal bureaucracy and its fantastic expense.

Socialism and all its allied philosophies. Most dodge the Socialist label. But labels don't mean much—it's the philosophy that's important. When the votes are in and counted, the big decision will be did the electorate support the American way of life—or is it ready to take a flier at the European way, thinking perhaps, that while the philosophy of Socialism, of all-powerful government, has never succeeded before, it may here?

If the issue is plain enough, there can be little doubt of the outcome.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT
JAMES DORAIS

In many past election years, the voters have been confronted with such a long list of ballot measures that the task of arriving at an informed decision on each proposition has been a confusing and difficult one.

Next Tuesday the task is simpler. For at this year's election, there are only 11 State Propositions on the ballot.

Proposition 1 is a tax revision measure that would eliminate personal property taxes. It has a surface appeal, but opponents point out that because the average person pays only a very small part of the total amount of taxes collected on personal property, its enactment would result in heavier sales taxes for consumers and drastically higher real estate taxes for homeowners.

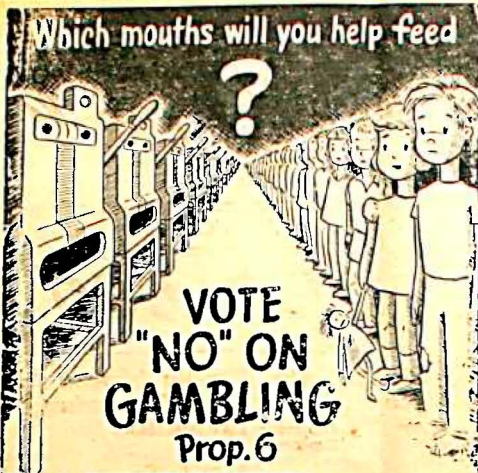

Proposition 2 would amend the State Constitution to make it impossible for office seekers to obtain State jobs through the passage of any ballot measure. It would outlaw the gimmick that was used to "elect" Myrtle Williams to the office of State Director of Social Welfare two years ago.

Proposition 3 is a reorganization plan to establish a uniform system of municipal and justice courts throughout the State.

Proposition 4 would amend the election code to permit people who have recently moved from one county to another within the State to vote in their former election precincts.

Proposition 5 would permit State legislators to serve as members of boards or commissions created to direct the state.

Who wants Proposition 6, the gambling initiative passed?

Not the men who know law enforcement. They know that No. 6 could create a racketeering empire in California.

District Attorneys throughout California have been asked to help defeat Proposition No. 6 by Don Keller, San Diego County district attorney and president of the District Attorneys' Association of California. Keller made his request in a letter to 75 district attorneys and county counsels.

The legalizing gambling initiative was termed by Keller "one of the most vicious, deceptive proposals ever to be presented for the vote of the people of this state."

From a law enforcement standpoint, he said, "District Attorneys of California know that under the best conditions the fight against vice, organized crime, and gangsterism is difficult, costly and unending. If adopted, this measure would be an open invitation to hoodlums, gangsters, grafters, confidence men, and every element of criminal scum to come to California as a new field of exploitation. The past efforts of conscientious law enforcement would be completely nullified and law enforcement task would be made immeasurably greater."

While law enforcement leaders consider legalized gambling chiefly from the crime prevention viewpoint, Keller said, "the moral aspect of this issue can not be ignored nor can we ignore the tremendous destructive force of notorious gambling and vice activities upon the welfare of the youth of our state."

Because No. 6 is "of such substantial threat to the well-being of our citizens," he added, the District Attorneys' Association of California "urges that several District Attorneys of the State of California adopt such program of active opposition in their respective counties as will assure the defeat of this measure."

and improvement clubs and such Statewide organizations as the California Farm Bureau, the California Taxpayers Association, and the California State Chamber of Commerce. Proposition 10 is bitterly opposed by the Housing Authority bureaucrats whose powers it would restrict.

Proposition 11 calls for the revision of obsolete land title legislation. It is unopposed.

Proposition 12 would license every known form of commercial gambling under control of five Commissioners who would be elected to office through the wording of the measure, in the very manner that Proposition 2 seeks to make unlawful in the future. Every organization of consequence in California is urging a "no" vote on this scheme.

Proposition 7 would admit qualified blind persons to the practice of chiropractic.

Proposition 8 would repeal present legislation which prohibits salary increases for local public officials after their election or during their term of office.

Proposition 9 would exempt temporary Agricultural Fair employees from civil service.

Proposition 10 would require that Housing Authorities submit proposed subsidized public housing projects to the voters for approval. Although public housing is paid for by increased taxes at the local level, voters have heretofore been allowed no voice in the matter. Endorsed by civic invitations to hoodlums, gangsters, grafters, confidence men, and every element of criminal scum to come to California as a new field of exploitation. The past efforts of conscientious law enforcement would be completely nullified and law enforcement task would be made immeasurably greater."

Proposition 11 calls for the revision of obsolete land title legislation. It is unopposed.

Proposition 12 would license every known form of commercial gambling under control of five Commissioners who would be elected to office through the wording of the measure, in the very manner that Proposition 2 seeks to make unlawful in the future. Every organization of consequence in California is urging a "no" vote on this scheme.

Proposition 7 would admit qualified blind persons to the practice of chiropractic.

Proposition 8 would repeal present legislation which prohibits salary increases for local public officials after their election or during their term of office.

Proposition 9 would exempt temporary Agricultural Fair employees from civil service.

Proposition 10 would require that Housing Authorities submit proposed subsidized public housing projects to the voters for approval. Although public housing is paid for by increased taxes at the local level, voters have heretofore been allowed no voice in the matter. Endorsed by civic

Talks and Talks With Mother Nature

BY TRIXIE TREGANZA

EGRET TAUKA THULA SNOWY EGRET

The Snowy Egret campaign of education which culminated in the summer of 1913 in the passage of the McLain bill, forbidding the transportation into the United States of the plumage of any wild bird for millinery and non-scientific purposes, has fortunately relieved us of the necessity of reviewing in detail the cruelty history of the near extinction of the most innocent and beautiful of all the citizens of the swampy wilderness.

What has been accomplished can never be undone for the enlightened sentiment of America will never again submit to the ruthless dictation of the feather merchant of lower Broadway. True, the world battle is not yet won.

Paris who cares not where she gets her finery, is still not reckoned with. Unhumbled by her lesson of adversity, she still incites her demimonde to flaunt its borrowed feather before the dazzled eyes alike of sober dames and silly debutantes who might better be at home exercising their ingenuity in the construction of hats and gowns which should really express their own individuality. Better a thousand times a bonnet made in America than a gaudy creation from Paris, whose ornaments are eloquent of plundered wilderness, blood and crime.

But the Snowy Heron, vision of loveliness, garbed as purely as an angel, tenderest victim ever sought out by the high priest of fashion, our Snowy Egret is coming back. Of the Herons in the eastern southland; we get most encouraging reports. Reduced at one time by the ravages of the plume hunters to the verge of supposed extinction, they have shown under protective measures of the Audubon Society, halting and handicapped as they were at first, notable recuperative power.

Now a score are reported from semi-points in Florida, nesting with Louisianas and Squawks and Little Blues; now a thousand in some great Louisiana rookery confirm the good news that the glory of the Southland is to return.

We had seen the birds previously, standing like marble statues at the margin on the small ponds, looking no doubt for tadpoles and minnows, or else stalking about sedately on the dry land. The country herabouts is nearly destitute of trees, so we found the Snowies making their humble cradles in the depth of a small cattail island with 200 pairs of squawks.

On the 27th day of May the fair prison began to open, and they delivered at intervals of two days, chicks covered with large spars, white down. We have learned two things that Snowies lay eggs every other day and depositing of the first egg means the mother Snowy is commencing to set immediately. For with the eggs left disposed to the sun, and other enemies, it would not be too good. They lay from three to five elliptical or ovate, light bluish, green or pale glaucous green eggs. They build a sturdy platform of rushes lashed midway of the tules, or else sticks placed in bushes. The adults in the breeding season are pure white, a bunch of 40 or 50 aigrettes originate on the middle of the back and reaches to or beyond the tail. Lores, eyes and toes are yellow, the bill black yellow at base, legs mainly black.

Gregory Boddy Advisor to Vista La Mesa Hi-Y

Admiral A. H. Gray, ret. (USN), acting president of the San Diego County YMCA named Gregory Boddy of San Diego as advisor of the Vista La Mesa Hi-Y Club which is sponsored by the Laymen's League of the Vista La Mesa Christian Church. Boddy served as advisor last year when the club was chartered and has effectively developed a community older boys' service club under the supervision of the church committee. He will be enrolled as a member of the National Leaders' Fellowship of the American YMCAs.

Admiral Gray reports that the Lemon Grove Hi-Y Club, 1950 Jassop Trophy winner, has not yet secured an advisor for the current program year. Both clubs are part of the Grossmont High School council of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs and conduct service activities at school and in the community.

A formal induction of new members of the Vista La Mesa Hi-Y Club was held today at the Vista La Mesa Christian Church.

Both clubs are related to the San Diego County YMCA, a Community Chest Agency.

Donald Morse is Program Sec'y. for County YMCA

Donald Morse, popular San Diego County YMCA leader replaced Arthur J. Northrop as Program Secretary of the San Diego County YMCA on Wednesday, Northrop recently enrolled at the International YMCA College, Springfield, Mass., to complete work for a master's degree.

In selecting Morse among candidates from many parts of the U. S. to the important work with youth it was felt by the Y Personnel Committee, headed by Judge L. N. Turrentine, that Morse is well fitted to effectively carry on the YMCA activities among Lemon Grove and other county youth. He will be related to junior and elementary age groups.

He secured high school education at Hoover High School and studied at San Diego State College. He was employed as manager of an electrical appliance store in Chula Vista where he moved in 1946. He is a charter member of the Y's Men's Club of Chula Vista and was re-elected district governor of the organization.

DON'T LET A FEW SHIFT THEIR TAX LOAD ONTO YOU!

Proposition No. 1 is a misleading proposal which endangers the school system and all other local government services. Under the guise of repealing the personal property tax, it removes a huge tax burden from a few big taxpayers and transfers that burden to the average citizen.

The average taxpayer today pays a personal property tax of $6.00—rarely more than $10. Certain big taxpayers pay personal property taxes in the millions. Should the tax be repealed, the $203 million dollars of revenue it provides schools and local governments must be raised in higher sales taxes—increased nuisance taxes—increased taxes on homes.

WHICH IS BETTER FOR YOU?

$6.00 PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX OR 5% SALES TAX OR A $45.00 INCREASE IN TAX ON YOUR HOME

For example: If all the loss should be made up by the sales tax, it would mean a 50% increase, bringing the sales tax to 10% IN MOST LOCALITIES.
If all the loss should be made up by the tax on real estate, it would add 30% to your tax bill, or an average of $45 ON EVERY HOME in the State.

Lemon Grove School News

Supt. Byron L. Netzel presided as chairman of the Lemon Grove School District faculty meeting in the school cafeteria on Thursday evening, S. K. Solleder acted as co-chairman. The teachers and administrators of the three Lemon Grove Schools attended.

Mr. Netzel, who was recently appointed as chairman for the current Community Chest drive in this community, spoke on the need for support of the Drive by every resident of Lemon Grove. Teachers assured the chairman that every support will be given by school personnel.

Mrs. Ovella Mason, second grade teacher at Lemon Grove, explained effectively the need for a No vote against Proposition 1 and 6 in the coming election. If the high caliber of our institutions of learning is to be maintained in this state, then every citizen must help defeat these threats to the schools.

Mrs. Jessie Snell reported on the recent Camp Seely Conference. She attended as a member of the salary and evaluation committee from the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association.

Other announcements were made by Mrs. Hazel Schwalm, Miss Lavancha Bauman, and Mrs. Loy Holmquist.

Halloween Carnival plans throughout the district were discussed, with S. K. Solleder as chairman.

The theme of the Lemon Grove P.T.A. Education-Safeguard of Freedom, was further emphasized at the October meeting of the group on Thursday evening October 19, in the school cafeteria, when the topic was "Your Child's Education." Parents were given an excellent opportunity to visit the classrooms and hold informal conference with teachers concerning procedure and progress.

During the brief business meeting, the membership committee reported that the recent drive was a success. Enthusiastic patrons boosted membership for the current year well over the quota set.

Mrs. B. L. Netzel, legislative chairman, spoke to the group on the recent stand taken by P.T.A. groups in California, opposing Propositions 1 and 6 which will appear on the November ballot. This and many other associations realize that the defeat of these propositions is vital to the continuance of our public schools and the high standards the schools have established.

Delicious refreshments were served by the seventh grade room mothers with Mrs. L. Barrows, chairman.

The room count award was shared by Mrs. Darroch's class and Mrs. LeMasters' kindergarten, who tied for high attendance.

Next meeting of the association will be held in the cafeteria on Thursday evening, November 16.

JUNIOR RED CROSS MEETING IN BALBOA PARK

Sponsors and student chairmen from the Lemon Grove School met with representatives from the city and county schools in Red Cross Headquarters in Balboa Park, San Diego, Saturday morning, E. Russell Alkire, Junior Red Cross Advisor, addressed the assembled workers on the need for greater realization of the important work done by the association.

Later in the morning, the students of various schools met with Mr. Alkire, while sponsors discussed further plans for work during this school year.

Attending from Lemon Grove were Miss Lavancha Bauman, Grossmont district delegate; Mrs. Margaret L. Darroch, junior high sponsor; Gloria Castellanos, student representative from the Lemon Grove School; and Wanda Turner, junior high student, who is the student delegate to the Junior Red Cross from the Grossmont District.

Mr. Purves' sixth grade class at Lemon Grove School elected class officers for November as follows: David Newell, president; Donna Dergen, vice president; John McClure, secretary; Beverly Svalstad, room monitor; Mildred Yamashita, decorations; Peggy Moore, librarian.

Miss Elizabeth Robbins, art teacher in the Junior High, had a water color abstraction of the play "Lillium" among the paintings at the drama display in the Speech Arts Gallery at San Diego State College, Saturday evening. The display followed the presentation of the play, "Candida."

Two teachers from the Lemon Grove School District are members of the Southern Section Group, Miss Mary Salandini and Mrs. Emma Tait, group leader.

Classroom visits and teacher-parent conversations will spark the American Education Week meeting of Grossmont Parent-Teacher Association on Thursday evening of next week, at the school.

The business meeting in the music room at 7 p. m. will be followed by a general session for all parents of high school students at 7:30 in the auditorium. Dr. Wm. Apple of San Diego State College will address the group with reference to the theme: "Responsible Citizens Build Security."

A new school bond election will be explained by Lewis Smith, high school superintendent, necessary to qualify the district for California State aid funds.

Schedules as followed by students will feature the mom-and-pop-go-back-to-school event including lunch periods when refreshments will be available in the new cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Byron Conrad and hostesses from El Cajon and Bostonia areas.

Opens School of Music in this Area

Garth Cashion, founder of the Cashion School of Music in La Mesa, has opened a School of Music in Lemon Grove.

Mr. Cashion was a former clarinet soloist with the San Diego Symphonic Band and for three years has successfully conducted the Cashion School of Music.

He is conductor of the Cashion All Youth Clarinet Band, the only organization of its kind in the United States. To be a member of the band, a child must not only be trained musically, but must be a credit in professional conduct.

In the inter-scholastic music contest last Spring, there were nine participants from the school.

Periodic recordings are taken of the students' performance for comparison in his work and to show progress made.

Billy Lockman, a student of the school who is clarinet soloist with Hoover High School Band, recently was accepted by audition to play solo clarinet with San Diego Youth Symphony Orchestra. James Wilson, also a Cashion student and member of the Hoover High Band, was accepted as bass clarinet soloist with the same orchestra.

Mr. Cashion has a complete staff of expert teachers, who are especially adapted to working with youth.

Shattuck Favors Suit in Water Case

Selection of the next Attorney General for California has a direct bearing on the future development of Southern California according to Edward S. Shattuck, candidate for office at the election next Tuesday.

Shattuck emphasizes that he favors the passage of legislation in Congress which would permit filing suit in the United States

Supreme Court to determine the rights of California to Colorado River water.

His opponent, Shattuck says, supports the national administration which would "give comfort" to Arizona to the controversy over the administration of Colorado River water.

S. Senator at the election next Tuesday in Nixon addresses as the campaign enters the home stretch.

"From now until November 7 I am going to take the gloves off and lay the situation between my self and my opponent square on the line," Nixon said. "My campaign is based solely on the record. If there is a 'smear' involved it is the record itself that is doing the smearing. Mrs. Douglas made the record. I didn't."

Warren Asks Vote on His Record

"Deeds, not promises" is the keynote of the campaign for reelection by Gov. Earl Warren, seeking a third term at the hands of the voters at the election next Tuesday.

"Governor Warren has waged a dignified campaign, offering a continuation of good government in California with facts of accomplishment to back it up," said Richard E. Patton, Warren's campaign manager in San Diego County. "The governor's campaign is sharp contrast to the wild promises which never could be fulfilled, made by his opponent."

Gives Evidence in Church Court

"The Christian church made no formal, but a gradual and almost unconscious transference of the one day to the other." "In the Voice from Sinai," page 167, 7:30. Every one is welcome.

Dr. Augustus Neander, a famous church historian, says, "The festivals of Sunday, like all other festivals was always only a human ordinance and it was far from the intentions of the apostles to establish a divine command in this respect, far from there and far from the early apostolic church to transfer the laws from Sabbath to Sunday." Neander's "Church History" Rose's translation, page 186.

Cardinal Gibbons declares in his "Faith of Our Fathers" edition of 1892, page 111. "You may read the Bible from Genesis I Revelation, and you will not find a single line authorizing the transference of Sunday. The Scriptures enforce the religious observance of Saturday, a day which we never sanctify."

The fourth commandment says, Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all of thy work; But the seventh day is the Sabbath day of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it." Exodus 20: 8-11.

The topic for the coming Sunday evening is "Spiritism." "Hell," is the theme for Tuesday, and Friday's topic is "Anti-Christ-666." Service begins at 7:30. Every one is welcome.

Just A Few Of Thousands Of Records Of Folks With Such Deficiencies Who Have Been Helped

Mr. Link Robinson (steel worker), 519 Lindsey, Newport, Kentucky: "When your stomach is in bad shape as mine was, couldn't eat, gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness, then your body doesn't get the proper foods it needs. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat anything. Best of all, I haven't those gas pains and bloating."

Mrs. Mabel Kitchen, 1650 Amsterdam, Cincinnati, Ohio: "Before I started HADACOL, I had aches and pains in my shoulders, back and arms. I could hardly move without having those pains. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the second bottle the aches and pains were about gone. I'm just starting the fourth bottle and am on top of the world. My aches and pains are completely gone. I recommend HADACOL to all my friends."

Mrs. J. Scieszinski, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is five years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we've noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite and doesn't seem tired like she used to be."

Harry Springer, 5608 Greer Street, St. Louis, Missouri: "I suffered from aches and pains for quite some time and continued to suffer. Then I read about HADACOL and bought my first bottle. Within a week I felt better. After the third bottle I had no aches at all. I was tired and listless but after a few bottles of HADACOL I felt like getting out and doing things."

Cloyed Seeks Vote of Confidence

Despite the fact he won both the Republican and Democratic nomination in the primary, Assemblyman Ralph Cloyed, of the 80th Assembly District, is asking for a "vote of confidence" at the election November 7.

Some of my supporters might feel it is not necessary to vote for me at the general election because I won the nominations of the two major parties," Cloyed said. "This would be disastrous, I still have an opponent, the nominee of the Independent Progressive Party, of which Henry A. Wallace was the leader."

"I am asking the voters to mark a cross opposite my name on November 7 as a vote of confidence so that the will of the majority, as evidenced at the primary, will be done."

Cloyed was elected at a special election last November to fill who worked with the committees.

Over 1000 children and older folks enjoyed the Halloween carnival at Monterey Heights Tuesday evening.

Among the prizes received for pumpkin jack o' lanterns were Nellie Vestal, Kay Winton and Frances Wheeler.

For costumes—Michael Jones, Michael and Bruce Massey, Patty O'Reilly, Karen Reed, Barbara Moe, Bonnie Holstrom, Susan Hobson, Mary Sternberg, Dan Zastoupil and Marlene Elster. Myra Sonka's dance numbers added much to the program.

The many booths proved popular.

AVOIDING FROZEN PIPES IN POULTRY YARDS

Now is the time to consider means to avoid frozen water pipes in poultry houses this winter, warns Robert H. Adolph, Farm Advisor of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

Freezing water for poultry flocks automatically reduces the feed consumption, and this in turn lowers egg production, he adds.

The problem in California is greatest in the foothills and at higher elevation. But even in the valleys and near the coast—where open houses are widely used—poultrymen must be prepared for freezing temperatures.

A choice of several methods by which alert poultrymen may combat the problem of freezing pipes is listed by Farm Advisor Adolph.

When frost is expected, turn off the water at nightfall and drain the pipes.

As an alternative, keep the water running. This will necessitate a means of removing excess water.

Insulate the pipes. This can be done with most watering systems. Wrap with soil-heating cable. This cable may be taped on the pipes. For drip systems, a heater wire run inside the pipes will be less costly.

Use a transformer but be sure it is properly installed. Otherwise, it may be dangerous to both birds and operators.

For open water containers, try commercial heaters. These may be of either external or immersion type. They will not, of course, keep pipes from freezing but will keep the drinking water available for the birds.

BUY EGGS BY THE POUND

Eggs "by the pound" instead of "by the dozen" would help the homemaker decide what size eggs to buy, believes Home Advisor Robert H. Adolph, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

In the fall, medium or small eggs are usually a better bargain than the "Jumbo" size because of the large number of pullets just beginning to lay. By spring these same pullets will be producing large and extra large eggs.

This increased supply of medium and small eggs in the fall means a greater price difference between the sizes than in the spring months. For instance, in the fall, a dozen extra large eggs weighing 28 ounces, may sell for 79c. Since 28 ounces is one and three-quarter pounds, the eggs cost 45c per pound. In comparison a dozen small eggs might weigh 19 ounces and cost 38c a dozen. Reduced to cost per pound these eggs cost only 32c, or a saving of 13c per pound of egg.
